

The Forest School TV

Our amazing Forest School TV raised the standards in speech and language across the school. The Forest School TV helped the children to be more confident as they express themselves through role play, freeze frames, debates and discussions.

The reading arch (love of reading)

A book is a gift you can open again and again – Garrison Keillor.

Our reading arch helps the children to create a love of reading outdoors. The pupils enjoy reading books in nature and discussing about what they have read. What else can be more relaxing than reading a story and hearing the birds?

The minibeast mansion

Our minibeast mansion helps the pupils to learn about the natural world around them. It offers the children learning opportunities as they will learn new vocabulary and observe living creatures in their natural habitat.
